Business Guide

Compiled by:

Embassy of Switzerland in Ireland

Dublin, April 2022

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE

A valid Swiss passport or identity card is required to enter and depart Ireland. Swiss nationals have the same rights as EU nations when staying in Ireland. For further information about entry conditions, please see <https://www.dfa.ie/travel/visas/visas-for-ireland/>

LANGUAGES USED FOR BUSINESS

English and Irish are the official languages of Ireland. However English is the majority language.

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

There are 10 public holidays in Ireland each year:

New Year's Day (1 January)

St. Brigid's Day (first Monday in February)

St. Patrick's Day (17 March),

Easter Monday

First Monday in May, June, August

Last Monday in October

Christmas Day (25 December)

St. Stephen's Day (26 December)

HEALTH AND INOCULATIONS

The Health Services Executive is responsible for delivering the country's health and social care needs, and provides health and personal social services in hospitals, health facilities and communities across the country <https://www.hse.ie/eng/services/list/>

TIME ZONES

Irish time is GMT less than half of the year. During Summer Daylight Saving Time, it is GMT+1.

TIME DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SWITZERLAND AND IRELAND

Ireland is one hour behind Switzerland. Changes from Winter Time to summer Daylight Saving time occur at the same time as in Switzerland.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY

The electrical supply in Ireland is 230v 50Hz. As the plugs and sockets are different from Switzerland, adaptors are necessary.

METHODS OF PAYMENT

The currency of Ireland is the Euro. Credit and Debit Cards are widely accepted and a chip and pin system is generally used. Many debit cards are now contactless which means a PIN number is not required for low value purchases.

From 28 October 2015, as part of Ireland's rounding initiative that aims to reduce the use of one- and two-cent coins, the change shoppers receive back in shops is rounded off to the nearest five cent. Change on a total bill is rounded up or down to the nearest five cent.

TRANSPORTATION

Being an island, international transport services are well developed. Ireland has a number of large ports and there are international airports in Dublin, Shannon (near Limerick) and Cork. The country does have a developed public transport infrastructure and a good network of main and secondary roads linking the major population centres. <http://www.discoverireland.ie/Info/Getting-Around>

BY AIR

There are direct flights between Dublin and Zurich and Dublin and Geneva (SWISS and Aer Lingus). Ryanair flies from Dublin to Basel. From May to October SWISS flies directly from Cork to Zurich.

BY SEA

Ireland has major ports in Dublin, Cork, Rosslare and Waterford. Ferry connections between the UK and Ireland via the Irish Sea include the routes from Dublin to Holyhead and Fishguard and Pembroke to Rosslare. In addition, there are ferries from Dublin, Rosslare and Cork to France as well as ferries from Cork to Spain (Santander).

TIPS FOR INITIATING BUSINESS CONTACTS

As a small, open economy with a strong reliance on international trade, the introduction of products and services into the Irish market is relatively uncomplicated. Standard international marketing and distribution practices are widely applied in the Irish business community.

When choosing a time to set up a meeting, the months of July and August should be avoided as this is the main vacation time in Ireland. Other periods when it is advisable to avoid setting up business meetings are Christmas, Easter or New Year since many executives will be on holiday during these times. Generally, the best time for business visits is from September to May.

BUSINESS PRACTICES

Business cards are generally expected but are not always a necessity. All brochures, pamphlets, folders, etc. should be in English.

SPECIAL FEATURES ON THE MARKET

Ireland has a small highly globalised economy, with a large exporting sector, and a significant number of multinational corporations. The Irish Government actively promotes foreign direct investment (FDI). The principal goal of Ireland's investment promotion has been employment creation, especially in technology-intensive and high-skill industries. Ireland has succeeded in attracting some of the world's largest companies to establish operations here. This includes some of the largest firms in the global technology, pharmaceutical, biosciences, medtech, fintech, manufacturing and financial services industries.
